New York City Turnaround Shopping Trip

All times and locations in New York are subject to change based on driver's discretion. The driver will take into account traffic, time availability, location popularity, and news he/she hears about the different districts as product availability does change weekly. We will hit traffic, and we have taken that into account to some extent. We want to ensure you that the driver will try to stay to this schedule as best as possible though. TTT will only use the most experienced NYC drivers. Please feel free to ask the driver / escort for tips on where to go for what you are looking for.
